Few Breezy Notes of Pumpkintown

Rev. C. L. Craig preached a good sermon to an attentive congregation at Oolenoy Sunday, Jan. 16. Thank you, Mr. Craig; we enjoyed your sermon very much.

Not long ago, when Easley Hendricks rode a mule into a ford to water, the mule became frightened and turning around suddenly fell flat in the water, wetting Easley and somewhat ruffling his feelings. Easley said water was cold and that he did not enjoy his bath much.

What has become of "A Farmer and Pleasant Grove"? Can't he tell us something about that very old hen?

Pumpkintownites are evidently getting jealous because Jim Corbin's name was published in The Sentinel not long ago. Some of them are telling (of course we don't believe it, tho) that Mr. Corbin, when he read the paragraph telling of his moving here, exclaimed, "That's the first time I ever saw my name in a newspaper!" Then they go on to say that Mr. Corbin clipped the paragraph and had it framed so that he might keep it as a souvenir. All right, Mr. Corbin; you tell them that if they want their names to figure in our news they will have to make something happen in connection with themselves.

Tally Clarke, a workman at W. F. Hendricks' sawmill, had the misfortune of getting his leg badly mangled one day last week. He was driving a yoke of oxen, which became unmanageable and in some way dragged a log over his leg.

Pertinent Points From Hogwallow

Miss Flutie Belcher entertained with a birthday party last week. Only her intimate friends were invited, as it was nobody else's business how old she is.

A new path is to be laid out between here and Bounding Billows, and Atlas Peck has been appointed as a committee of one to walk back and forth over the route for the next two weeks.

The stove at the postoffice will be put up in a few days. A large crowd will be present to witness the unveiling ceremonies, and to suggest as to how the pipe should be put together.

Ellick Helwanger, while taking in the magic lantern show at Tickville Saturday night, was robbed of sixty cents in change. The robbers somehow overlooked a dollar bill he had in the bottom of his shoe.

The Excelsior Fiddling Band has ordered a gross of music from Chicago. The shipment consists of selections that different ones have asked them to play.

The muddy season will soon be approaching, and the Wild Onion school teacher, who has encountered it in all walks of life, is arranging for a lecture on it at the school building in the Calhoun neighborhood in the late winter. The title of the talk will be "Mud: Its Cause and Effect." He will give many good thoughts as to the possible cause of mud and the effect it has on persons, especially that part known as the feet. To get thru a course of mud with as little difficulty as possible, he will give it as his opinion that the person must put his or her feet down as seldom as possible to conform with good manners and to lift them from the ground before the mud has time to take effect. In walking across deep mud it is advisable, he says, to hold the breath.

Good Woman Has Many Descendants

Mrs. Emma J. Nalley, widow of the late Rev. George B. Nalley of Easley, has been on a visit for the past week to her two daughters, Mrs. D. M. and Mrs. J. J. Newton of Norris. Mrs. Nalley tells us that she married when in her twentieth year and that she is now 55 years of age, has twelve living children and four dead. Her living children are as follows: Elford Nalley, Mrs. D. M. Newton, Sam Nalley, Mrs. J. J. Newton, Charles Nalley, Mrs. Jule Watson, Luther Nalley, Thomas Nalley, Frank Nalley, Henry Nalley and Paul Nalley. The oldest child, Elford, is 34, while the youngest, Paul, is 12. Mrs. Nalley has 36 living grandchildren and 7 dead. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Newton of Norris are the parents of both the oldest and youngest grandchild, which is a daughter of 16 and a son three weeks old. Mrs. Nalley was Miss Emma J. Burns before her marriage and was born in Pickens county and has always lived in Pickens and Anderson counties. All her children are living in those two counties now except Charlie Nalley, who is living in South Georgia. Mrs. Nalley is a member of the Wesleyan Methodist church and is a consecrated Christian. She puts her trust in Divine guidance for all things. Mrs. Nalley's husband, the late G. B. Nalley, was a minister of the gospel for over 20 years, and several Wesleyan preachers that we know of claimed salvation under his preaching. Rev. Mr. Nalley was 20 years old when he married and 54 years and 6 months old when he died. May the Lord spare this good mother for many more years, and may her declining years be her happiest ones and when she is done with this sinful world may she hear that blessed applaud: "Come, ye blessed of my father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."

Crystal Wedding In Norris Town

One of the most brilliant social affairs of the past week was the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rhodes Saturday afternoon at their home, "Hillcrest," in Norris.

The beautiful little home was most artistically decorated, the color scheme, green and white, prevailing thruout the house. Mrs. Dan Cannon ushered the guests into the drawing-room, where they were received by Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rhodes, M. C., Jr., and Cecil and their near relatives. Misses Edna Brown and Joe Zeigler invited the guests into the dining-room, where they were served a delicious salad course by Misses Katie Mae Rhodes, Lurline Collier and Emma Griffin. A souvenir bell was pinned on each guest by little Misses Frances Yarbrough and Carolyn Rhodes. Misses Helen Brown and Louise Rhodes presided over the punch bowl. Many handsome and useful presents were received.

About 75 guests called during the hours of 4 to 6. The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cannon, William Faussett of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Hal Rhodes, Mrs. H. W. Rhodes and Misses Louise and Kate Rhodes of Suwanee, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Collier, Misses Lurline Collier and Rachel Morrison of Jefferson, Ga.; Mrs. John W. Jacobs of Gainesville, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, Mr. and Joel Griffin of Central; Mr. and Mrs. Furman Norris, Dr. and Mrs. Woodruff, and Messrs. Hutchins and Ward of Catechee; Mrs. J. H. Brown and Pauline Brown of Liberty; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carey, Jr., of Pickens; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lagerholm, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Battison, Misses Edna and Helen Brown, Mrs. Cleo Latham of Greenville, and Mrs. J. M. Elliott of Greenwood.

Why It Pays to Read the Ads

SHREWD men and women of today not only read advertisements, but they study them. They have come to watch for them, and the business man who realizes as much as getting their trade. The modern man and woman have come to know that when a business house has anything special to offer that offer will appear in the newspaper—and if no such offers meet their eyes when they open the paper, they very naturally assume that their merchants have nothing worth saying this week, or that week, or whatever week it may be. The public the world over is guided in its purchases by newspaper offerings. If their local paper does not bring these offerings to them they naturally look elsewhere for them.

News Notes Along Pickens Route 2

Mr. Editor: Maybe the people would like to have a few dots from this side.

A large crowd attended prayer meeting at Guv Pressley's Sunday afternoon.

There was a singing at Whit Garrett's Sunday afternoon.

J. A. Roper went to Georgia on a business trip the latter part of the week.

Clyde Pressley, who recently moved to Norris, spent Saturday night with homefolks, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pressley.

An accident of serious interest occurred on the Southern railroad last Saturday, when one of our canine members jumped against No. 37, meeting instant death. 'Shep' belonged to Mack Durham.

Real estate transactions are still in progress in this community. Mitchell Roe has swapped his tract here for a tract in Georgia. This tract is now divided up and sold to J. E. Merck, Fletcher Evans and Isaac Durham. John A. Roper, our real estate agent, had his hand on the throttle and ran the trades safely through. If you don't want to trade your land don't let him see the deed.

The farmers are anxious to see some dry weather now. They are looking forward to a large cotton crop.

Married by J. B. Newberry, at his residence, January 23, Miss Clara Robinson and Franklin Black, of Easley route 5.

John A. Horton, of Belton, candidate for Congress from this district, was in our city this week. Mr. Horton is a fine man and will make a good race.
